

GOEBEL AND BLACKBURN.

They Are Given a Grand Ovation at Hardinsburg.

Enthusiastic Crowd and a New Impetus Given to Democracy.

San Francisco was a big day for Hardinsburg. The Goebel-Blackburn speaking and the Catholic picnic served as a lucky combination in drawing a large crowd. It has been many a day since there was such a gathering there. There were people from Meade and Grayson counties and from nearly all, if not the entire section, of Breckinridge. The crowd, men, women and children, was estimated at about 2,500. The picnic was held at the beautiful and spacious lake park, near the town. Every arrangement had been made to make the surroundings attractive and comfortable. Dinner was served by the Catholic church people, and there was abundance for the vast crowd.

In company with Hon. D. R. Murray and other friends of the cause, Mr. Goebel arrived at the Clarksburg house at 11 o'clock. He went over by the lake, where he spoke in the city at the picnic. Hon. J. C. R. Blackburn came by rail over the Henderson route, and reached the hotel at 11:30. Promptly dinner was served, and the speakers introduced and paid their respects to Mr. Goebel during his short stay there.

At one o'clock he was driven to the picnic grounds, where a splendid stand had been erected and the necessary arrangements made for the speaking. The crowd around the stand was immense, and it seemed to be everybody's aim to shake hands with the man Goebel, who had become so prominent in state matters.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Milton Boyd of Kirk, in his most enthusiastic style. Mr. Goebel began in his usual matter-of-fact way, and said in the out that this was a fight between the people of Kentucky on one hand, and the L. & N. railroad, a gigantic corporation on the other.

He spoke of this corporation's influence, and the means they were using to accomplish their object. He referred to the Louisville Dispatch and the Evening Post and said that the number of thousands of these papers which were now being scattered over the state, and paid for by the L. & N. railroad company. In fact he said that this corporation through its agents and with all the money it could raise and scrape was trying to defeat him. He said he did not know why this was the case, unless it was because he had fought the L. & N. while in the Legislature. In this connection Mr. Goebel spoke of his course in the Legislature, and the bills he had favored in the interest of the people as against this corporation. If that was their only plan he pleaded guilty to the charge, and whenever he was put in a position to do so, he would always favor the people's interest over the railroad's.

He declared that if he was elected Governor, the railroads should be made to abide by the law as well as the people. The McDowell bill, the Fallow State bill, and the duties of the railroad commissioners were other matters referred to by Mr. Goebel. He said he was glad that the people of the state should have a railroad commission, and said it was in their power to fix the rate of charges for long and short hauls on freight, and that if the railroads were not restricted in this respect, there would be no limit to their charges. Mr. Goebel spoke about one hour and a half. He closed by saying that he hoped to be their next Governor.

He was followed by J. C. R. Blackburn, who made one of his characteristic campaign speeches.

CONVENTION NOTES.

Goebel is certainly a drawing card.

It was a fine day for the watermelon man. Their sales run up into the thousands. "Mug" Sevan was not in it a little bit. He looked lonesome. He said it was not his day.

The Hon. Albert Thompson and the Hon. Gus Robertson, of Meade, were enthusiastic listeners.

There is more politics to the square inch in Hardinsburg than at any other point in the county.

W. A. Smith, Democratic candidate for the Legislature, is Meade, was figuring among the populace.

Goebel never smiles or talks a joke. He is cold, calculating, shrewd politician.

can, who knows his business and first shot about into the air, and then at the crowd.

In his speech, he said that he had been in the state for many years, and that he had seen many things, but that he had never seen anything like this.

The Catholic people were not at all surprised. They expected a crowd, and they were not disappointed.

They were very much interested in the stand, and they were not at all surprised that it was impossible for them to see it.

All the Meade county politicians were on hand, taking in every word Goebel said. They were not at all surprised that they were not at all surprised.

It was an ideal day. The rain the night before had laid the dust and cooled the atmosphere, making it pleasant for everybody.

Sig Loebl, of Guion, was the only one who was not at the picnic. He was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic.

"Little Mill" said the part well. He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic.

He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic. He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic.

At the conclusion of Mr. Goebel's speech he was presented with a beautiful bouquet, the gift of Mrs. A. J. Robertson, of Gladstone, who is a very ardent admirer of the Senator.

W. B. Dorell, of Dick, Meade county, was among the Meade county delegates. He is a life-long Democrat, but will not support Goebel. He says Brown will get 200 votes in Meade.

The Hon. Wm. Miller is a great admirer of Mr. Goebel. He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic.

He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic. He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic.

Dick May was never happier in his life. He never loved a man in his life, and he never loved a man in his life.

He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic. He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic.

Dick is a regular devil in the wood. He is a regular devil in the wood, and he is a regular devil in the wood.

There are many men on earth who are good. There are many men on earth who are good, and there are many men on earth who are good.

The only misstep of the day was the breaking down of the speaker's stand, which was a great disappointment to the crowd.

Goebel, Blackburn and a number of prominent politicians going down to the picnic, and they were not at the picnic.

Major Barry, Democratic candidate for the Legislature, made a formal announcement of his candidacy from the stand. He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic.

He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic. He said that he was not at the picnic, and he was not at the picnic.

HON. L. P. TANNER

Makes a Rousing Democratic Speech in This City.

Hon. L. P. Tanner, Democratic candidate for Attorney General, reached this city from Owensboro Saturday evening, and filled his appointment to speak here.

He spoke in the spacious store room formerly occupied by Heston, Willis & Company.

Hon. D. H. Sevens introduced the gentleman in a graceful manner, and plainly explained the workings of the Louisville convention which nominated Hon. William Goebel for Governor of Kentucky.

Mr. Sevens gave his reasons for not opposing the nomination, stating that he had Mr. Goebel's nomination as a fair and honest one, and he would not be swayed by the party.

Mr. Tanner spoke for nearly two hours, holding his hearers spell-bound. He is a fluent speaker, and he well versed in the cause he advocates.

There were over two hundred present to hear his speech, and many went to the city in the evening to hear him.

Mr. Tanner is a lawyer of Owensboro, and has a reputation of being a practitioner of ability.

Old Bob Chapin Dead.

This morning finds another citizen gone to his last home. This time it is an old and respected colored man who for many years has been a familiar figure on our streets, and it will regret that we hear of his death, which occurred yesterday at Dr. B. A. Adkins's lively stable. Bob was in the Union army and it is through Uncle Sam's kindness to his old servant, that he has been able to subsist during his lingering illness.

Years ago in the palm days of the Breckinridge Company Limited, this old darkey was the vanguard man Friday for the occupants of "The Cottage." He was faithful, polite and well liked by his friends of both colors.

First Visit in 27 Years.

Miss Margaret Henke, of Warsaw, Ill., reached this city last Friday. Mrs. Henke is the only sister of Mr. Charles Henke, Sr., and they had not seen each other for a period of twenty-seven years. She will probably be here for several weeks. While here she will visit her old birth place, German Ridge, Ind., which is located near Rome. Mrs. Henke is confronted with many changes that have taken place in this town, and it is in her opinion, that she will adopt herself to the changed conditions.

Bevin-Mattigley.

At 8:30 o'clock, yesterday morning at the St. Rose Catholic church, surrounded by a host of admiring friends, Mr. Joseph Bevin and Miss Mattie B. Mattigley were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Father Mattigley officiated. Miss Mattigley is the daughter of Mr. J. O. Mattigley, of Eastland, and is a bright and attractive young lady. Mr. Bevin is a resident of this city, and he has been in this county. The New extends congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy life together.

Are You Going to Owensboro Fair?

The Fair at Owensboro, Davison county, Ky., this year, will be the best ever held at that place. No effort is being spared to make it a complete success. It will be held the first week in October. Don't fail to see their advertisement in this issue of the News.

Rhodes and Tiller Buy a Jack.

Mr. Wm. Rhodes, of Rhodolia, and Dr. William Miller, of Union Star, were in town Monday. They had been at Parisville, where they purchased a horse. Mr. Rhodes and Dr. Miller are well known in this city. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Mattigley, of Adolphus. It is said a handsome price was paid for him.

First Visit in 22 Years.

Miss William Hagan and daughters, Miss Jessie and Lillian, of Troy, Ind., spent Sunday in the city. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Mattigley, of Adolphus. It is said a handsome price was paid for him.

Wants to Come to Breckinridge.

A BOMBSHELL.

Not For Goebel or Brown Says Judge Tarvin.

The Man Who Nominated Senator Goebel for Governor.

And The Question Naturally Arises Where Is He At.

THE NOMINATION A GREAT CALAMITY.

From the Evening Post.

COVINGTON, Sept. 11.—Judge Tarvin came home yesterday and left for Frankfort in the evening. Before leaving he said:

"I have come home to my political grave. I intend to speak for the platform of the Louisville Convention because I wrote it and it embodies the principles of Democracy. I do not see how I can do otherwise."

I will not mention the name of Goebel nor of Brown. I will call no one a bolter. I will not defend the Louisville Convention nor will I condemn it. The nomination is a great calamity and I regret it, but it never would have happened if Hardin or Stone had the political sense of a chicken. But, even if there was fraud at the Louisville Convention, and that any reason Bryan and free silver should be injured?

"Goebel is not my style of man. I am not going to speak for him but for the Democratic platform, and IF THE FEELING AGAINST GOEBEL IS AS STRONG IN OTHER PARTS OF KENTUCKY AS IT IS IN COVINGTON, HE WILL NOT POLL 25,000 VOTES."

"I believe Bryan will come to Kentucky and speak for Goebel, but if he does Algeld will also come and speak against Goebel. I received a number of letters asking me to come home and speak for Goebel, but for every one of them I received two letters advising me not to come; and I did come, because of Bryan and the platform

The resemblance between John Vanderhill and the hermit was so striking that it is this striking family likeness as well as the identity of name that has led to the belief that the recuse is a near relative of the wealthy Vanderhill family of Westchester.

When the hermit has ever conversed with the Vanderhills, he has always been taken by the hermit's reticence from his unobtrusive retreat, confident of the close kinship between the two families, and has been surprised to find that he is housed in the most palatial of mansions in America.

Some of the Vanderhills, says Mr. Kauffman's nephew, are of the opinion that the recuse is a descendant of Commodore Vanderbill's descendants in the male line are well known. The late William H. Vanderhill was the oldest son of Commodore Vanderhill's first spendthrift widow. "Prudence," always an invalid and died unmarried in the infancy of her son, the late Commodore of West Point, who served with credit in the war for the Union. The Commodore's only daughter, the late Mrs. H. Vanderhill-Corrells, William Kauffman's mother, was the only daughter who had no descendants named John Vanderhill is certain. The family, however, perhaps by a little genealogical research, might be traced to the family in one of the collateral lines.

The family name, the original progenitor of the family, was John Vanderhill, a merchant, and the late Judge John Vanderhill was a prominent citizen of Long Island.

There is also the family of James Vanderhill, a descendant of the Commodore.

THE FAIR

WRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 13, 1899.

The Saloon Must Go.

Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its regular meeting last night at the Methodist church. There was a large majority of the members besides many visitors.

The absence of the president, Mr. James Smith, caused the service. After an appropriate prayer, the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Mary F. Smith. A Bible reading by Mrs. Ann Ward. A committee was appointed to arrange the program for the next month. The committee consisted of Mr. W. H. Smith, Dr. F. M. Smith, Mr. W. H. Smith, and Mr. Alfred G. Smith, was appointed by the president.

The audience then enjoyed a treat in listening to the song, "Our Heavenly Home," which was beautifully sung by Miss Jessie Reynolds, of Fordville, Ky., the attractive guest of Miss Smith.

The Rev. Mr. Bigham, who is well known in this vicinity as an eloquent and fervent speaker, was introduced by Mr. Bigham. He spoke of the "Gospel of the Kingdom," which is a business without a true defender. He said any man, be he vendor or consumer, to give him a false measure, who is weighed and measured in the land. It appeals to two classes of men—those who want to drink and those who make money by his consumption. He showed clearly the relation existing between the saloon and the government—the citizen giving honor, obedience and tribute that the government may afford him protection for his life and his property.

By many laudable illustrations, he proved that a man has no right to be pleased with his own property and to please to do right. The liquor traffic is a question that affects everyone, man, woman and innocent children, and should be put down by the law. It can be done, it has been done and ought to be done by the voice of this materialistic district.

Mr. Bigham closed by saying that the opposition can be raised by his being public before his audience if, in no other way.

After the inspiring talk, the names of several new members were added to the list of the meeting and the service closed at the Christian church next Monday night.

Two Struckmen.

London, Ky., Sept. 8.—News from the county, near the line of Kentucky, is to the effect that Harry Marston was ambushed and murdered Wednesday and James Marston suffered the same fate Thursday. The Marston and Roberts families accuse each other of these two murders.

DREYFUS CONDEMNED.

But He Believes He Will Soon Be Set at Liberty.

Military Penalty that the Prisoner Will Be Compelled to Serve Out His Sentence.

Rennes, Sept. 11.—When the dread verdict of guilty was communicated to the prisoner, the latter, who had been in custody since the failure of the trial, was not at all surprised. He was, however, he rallied quickly to his feet, and with a terrible shout, he hurled himself against the bars of his cell.

Monsieur Dreyfus and Madame Dreyfus, his brother, visited him. The meeting with his wife was naturally very affecting, but both held up as well as possible. He said to her: "I am not a deserter, I am a prisoner. I shall soon be free, but I think of you and my poor children. They will be branded as the children of a traitor."

He is convinced that the ten years' imprisonment to which he is sentenced is the worst punishment that can be inflicted on a man. He expects to be released in five years, and he expects to be released in five years from the date of his former condemnation.

So far as can be ascertained military men are perfectly satisfied with the verdict, which they interpret as safeguarding the honor of the army and at the same time doing away with the Dreyfus case, which, they say, has actually explained his crime in the sufficient manner as to be satisfied with it. They point out that even if he is sent to Port Cort, it will be to receive the same treatment as the other prisoners who have experienced such his return to France.

His exposure fact is the extraordinary difference of opinion respecting the exact effect of the judgment—whether he can be degraded again, and whether the five years' military confinement, which has undergone to be regarded as equivalent to the ten years' detention will be released next month. This matter is quite aside from the general opinion that it will be released in a few days by President Loubet, who will find some grounds to exercise clemency.

Monsieur Dreyfus, however, five years will count for nothing and that Dreyfus, according to law, will have to suffer ten years' detention. Many others, however, hold a contrary opinion and declare that he will be released in October.

Colonel Jouanot also declares that Dreyfus must serve ten years, but he is of the opinion that he will be released in a few days by President Loubet, who will find some grounds to exercise clemency.
